

Communities holding government accountable for our Constitution's full promise

The choice is yours. Which America do you want to live in?

The America of:

- "Big Brother" reading your emails and tapping your phone
- Kangaroo courts
- Torture and degrading treatment of detainees
- Unchecked executive-branch power

OR

The America of:

- Freedom of speech
- Privacy protections
- Innocent until proven guilty
- Checks and balances
- High standards of human rights

We the people of the United States, the first words of the US Constitution, make it clear that our government was established to serve the people. The Constitution is our government's commitment to abide by limits that prevent abuses of power and guarantee people certain fundamental rights and liberties.

The People's Campaign for the Constitution calls forth the power of the people to reassert our Constitution by joining forces around common beliefs and speaking to our elected representatives with a more powerful voice.

If violating the Constitution is unacceptable to you, stand up to protect it.

Sign the pledge for the People's Campaign for the Constitution:

Pledge: I support the goal of the People's Campaign for the Constitution: To restore constitutional rights, checks and balances, and the rule of law, which have been violated under the guise of a permanent "War on Terror." I pledge to join with others in my community to hold elected representatives and candidates for public office to the oaths they have made or must make: to protect and defend the U.S. Constitution. Sign the pledge online at constitutioncampaign.org
